

REVENUE LEAK

Dental Practices, Your Front Desk Is Losing Six Figures

Every missed call is invisible until you run the math. Here is what your phone line is actually costing you.

SWIPE

02 · call volume

300 Calls a Month Never Get Answered

Dental practices miss 30 to 38 percent of incoming calls during business hours. Sixty five percent of those callers are new patients, not existing ones confirming appointments.

FIG. 2 · VERYDIAN

03 · cost per call

Each Missed Call Costs More Than You Think

An immediate loss of $850 per missed new patient call. Extend that patient's lifetime value and the number climbs past $8,000 per missed call.

FIG. 3 · VERYDIAN

04 · missed vs captured

Voicemail Loses Patients, Capture Keeps Them

78 percent of callers who hit voicemail hang up and call the next practice instead of leaving a message. After hours capture answers before they dial away.

FIG. 4 · VERYDIAN

05 · capture sequence

The Capture Sequence Runs Without Extra Staff

A missed call triggers an automated text within 90 seconds, offers three open slots, and confirms the booking without anyone at the front desk touching it.

FIG. 5 · VERYDIAN

What Callback SLAs Actually Enforce

A callback SLA is a rule, not a feeling. Every unanswered call gets a live callback attempt within 15 minutes during business hours, no exceptions.

FIG. 6 · VERYDIAN

Price Your Own Leak This Week

Thirty days of call logs is all it takes.

COMMENT CAPTURE